

THE WRONG WOMAN

In contemporary London, a woman's betrayal of her closest friend sets off a chain of consequences neither of them can outrun. What begins as a reckless emotional entanglement with the same charismatic man soon becomes something far more dangerous when love, loyalty, and truth collapse at the same time. As hidden lies surface and the friendship fractures under the weight of jealousy, shame, and misplaced devotion, one devastating loss changes the course of both their lives forever. Forced into a role she never expected and burdened by a guilt she cannot escape, she must navigate public judgment, private grief, and the constant shadow of the man who helped destroy everything. But as she fights to rebuild a future from the ruins of betrayal, the possibility of redemption begins to emerge through motherhood, resilience, and the faint promise of a different kind of love. A romantic melodrama driven by emotional consequence, fractured female loyalty, and the lasting cost of choosing the wrong person, The Wrong Woman is designed for compulsive, cliffhanger-led viewing with a powerful engine of heartbreak, sacrifice, and renewal.
